

Curriculum Vitae

Naomi Kelman

Division Head, Novartis OTC

Naomi Kelman has been Division Head, Novartis OTC and a permanent attendee of the Executive Committee of Novartis since March 2011. As of January 1, 2012, she is a full member of the Executive Committee.

Before joining Novartis, Ms. Kelman was president of LifeScan North America, part of the Johnson & Johnson Diabetes Care Franchise. Ms. Kelman joined Johnson & Johnson in 2000, and held several leadership roles within the Consumer as well as the Medical Device and Diagnostic sectors. She also was president of Johnson & Johnson Vision Care for the Americas.

Prior to joining Johnson & Johnson, Ms. Kelman held positions of increasing responsibility at Bristol-Myers Squibb Co. in the Clairol Division, and oversaw expansion of some of the company's biggest consumer brands into the Europe, Middle East and Africa regions. Ms. Kelman also was managing director of the Matrix Essentials business for Europe and then vice president of marketing for the worldwide Matrix Essentials business. Prior to her time at Bristol-Myers Squibb, she worked in Finance at American Express Co.

Ms. Kelman received both her bachelor's and Master of Business Administration degrees from Cornell University in the United States.

